

FELDENKRAIS GUILD® of North America
E2.2.1.3 INTERNATIONAL ACCREDITATION GUIDELINES FOR FELDENKRAIS® TRAINING PROGRAMS [ACCREDITED BY NATAB]

The purpose of the Training Accreditation Guidelines is to insure and promote the quality of each accredited FELDENKRAIS® Professional Training Program (FPTP). The principle intention is to support and to promote the learning of all those who are involved - the trainees, Trainers and Assistants - in a way which enables the FELDENKRAIS METHOD® to develop, and be adaptable to contemporary society.

Application and Accreditation Guidelines

1. The training shall prepare trainees for competence in the practice of both Awareness through Movement® and Functional Integration®.
2. Each individual training program shall be separately accredited in its entirety.
3. [Minor item deleted.]
4. A program shall not begin before accreditation has been given.
5. A proposal will be considered for approval by the TAB within three (3) months of receipt of a training proposal which fulfills all the criteria to the TAB. The staff will review the proposal for completeness and write to the training organizers for additional data, if needed, before the proposal is put on the agenda of the TAB.
6. Advertising and promotional materials:
 - a. Advertising includes written announcements to the public or to practitioners, teachers, and/or trainees of the Feldenkrais Method. A letter of intention or announcement of a "project" or anything of similar intent, published in Feldenkrais literature or any publication or place is considered advertising.
 - b. For trainings in areas served by EuroTAB, advertising may not begin until accreditation has been granted. For trainings in areas served by NATAB and AusTAB, advertising published before accreditation must include a statement that the sponsor "intends to apply for accreditation." In North America, a letter of intention must be filed with the NATAB before advertising.
 - c. Advertising should specify that in certain states, or countries, professional practice may be subject to licensing laws limiting their professional practice unless the graduate has (a) certain license(s).
 - d. For training programs accredited by NATAB, if evidence that the program is in compliance with state and local laws related to post secondary or vocational training has not been provided to NATAB, advertising must include a statement that "accreditation of this program by FGNA does not indicate that this program meets local or state laws for post secondary or vocational training."
 - e. Advertising shall indicate that neither ATM® nor FI® may be practiced professionally until the person has graduated from an accredited training program. Interim authorization as an ATM teacher is a student teaching position, subject to completing all graduation requirements.
 - f. Service Marks
 1. The training program shall comply with the service mark provisions of the country in which the program is operating. For information on local service mark provisions

- training organizers are to refer to the Guild/Association of the country in which the training program is operating.
2. Service marks will be appropriately used in all training program promotional materials.
 7. Organizers of all training programs in the US and Canada accredited by FGNA after June 26, 2019 must secure insurance for the training programs including General Liability and Sexual Harassment coverage for the training program and each member of its educational and administrative staff, and naming FGNA as an additional insured. Ongoing coverage will be a condition of continued accreditation. Organizers must provide FGNA with:
 - a. A certificate of insurance meeting the above requirements, no less than 45 days before the beginning of the training program; and
 - b. A certificate of renewal no less than 45 days prior to the beginning of each training year.
 8. It is expected that a training program will proceed according to what has been set forth in the proposal with regard to educational content, personnel, location, structure, etc. The TAB must be informed as soon as possible, in writing, of any planned or unplanned changes in these areas. Significant changes in program may affect the status of accreditation.
 9. [Minor item deleted.]
 10. [Moved to 16(m).]
 11. A training is to be held over a minimum of three years (36 months) and include a minimum of 800 hours of class instruction over at least 160 days of training. In training segments longer than 10 days, there has to be at least one day off after each 7 days.

Requirements Related to the Organizational Aspects of the Training Program

12. A Trainer needs to be present for the entire 800 hours, except for brief and extraordinary circumstances. However, a maximum of 10 (ten) days of any training program can be taught by an experienced Assistant Trainer (defined by a minimum of five (5) years of experience as an Assistant Trainer and 280 days of work in training programs) or a Trainer Candidate without the Trainer present, but with Trainer supervision, at the discretion of the Educational Director. No more than five (5) of these ten days may be consecutive. Training proposals must include specific dates a training is to be held, with a list of who the Trainer is for each of those specific dates.
13. Every training program has to have an Educational Director and an Administrative Director. (In some cases, both roles may be performed by the same person.)

Continuity - the TAB has further delineated what this means in terms of what needs to be done in trainings and in proposals submitted for accreditation. It is preferred that the Educational team consist of Trainers and very experienced Assistant Trainers and that these are the people providing the continuity functions. Various combinations of faculty, manuals, design materials, and communications with the educational director may be used to fulfill the continuity functions, given the specific situation for each training program. The key is to be in clear communication with the TAB about how this function is to be (and is) carried out.
Proposals must specifically address the continuity functions. When the Educational Director is not present 100% of the time the plan should account for the following aspects of continuity:
 - how the incoming Trainer will know about the educational design and what has preceded the current segment, including information about any special needs of the group and/or specific students.

 - how the students’ need for a consistent, reliable presence by an educational team member is actualized.

However, an Educational Director who has directed a minimum of two training programs can teach a maximum of 60%. The additional days shall be taught by a minimum of three additional Trainers. Minimum exposure to one Trainer is 10 days. The educational plan will indicate how the principle of significant variety will be implemented.
35. A minimum of 12 FI lessons shall be offered to each trainee as part of the training and included in the tuition. All of these lessons shall be given under the direction of the Educational Director. At least 1 of these lessons shall be given by a Trainer. 39. Trainees in training programs will be permitted to teach Awareness through Movement for purposes of their learning, after two years enrollment in the Professional Training Program. 40. [Minor item deleted.]
41. Trainees may miss no more than five (5) days in any year, and no more than ten (10) days during the whole course of the training program, without having to make formal arrangements with the Trainer or educational staff to make up missed class time. The trainee, however, is responsible for the content of the missed material. Trainees must make up all additional missed time with assistance of the educational director and the training program teachers. In North America, no person shall join a training program, having missed more than the first year (40 days/200 hours) of the program.

[For programs with three segments each year, submitting the forms after each segment is easier for the TABs to review.] [In North America,] for Educational Directors who have completed directing two accredited trainings, as the Educational Director, and whose trainings have had no recent violations of TAB policy, compliance forms are due 45 days after completion of each year of the training. For other Educational Directors, compliance forms are due more often, as scheduled with the accrediting TAB.
